

Midwifery Intake Form

Everyone applying for the midwifery program is automatically put on a waitlist. The midwives will review the list about every 2-4 weeks. If they are able to bring you into care, you will be called to book your first appointment. If they are unable to bring you into care, an email/letter will be sent stating that you should continue to seek care from a doctor or an obstetrician and that you will remain on the midwifery waitlist should anything change in the future.

The midwives and administrative staff are from all backgrounds and diverse populations and adhere to the SHA anti-discrimination policy. We support our staff and clients regardless of their background and we cannot guarantee that your assigned midwife will be your only care provider.
